

Paul Klipsch's
Woofers & Tweeters
They're the Best

America's national newspaper, the Wall Street Journal, paid a high tribute to Paul Klipsch of Hope in yesterday's edition, Wednesday, December 26.

In a coast to coast survey of the industry which builds quality phonograph and radio sets to customer's order the Journal reported that Mr. Klipsch's electronic speaker is recognized as the best in America. Says the Journal: "The very best home speaker systems are expensive. One of the most costly, and considered by many sound experts to be the best in the country for deep-bass reproduction is called the Klipsch-horn, made by Klipsch & Associates at Hope, Ark. In its cabinet, it sells at prices ranging from $518 to $711, depending upon cabinet finish."

When the factual Wall Street Journal, authority on commodities and stocks and bonds, says that about a commercial product you can figure it's beyond dispute. The WSJ is only now discovering what the technical journals of electronics had previously published — but it never hurts to have the favorable truth reprinted time and again.

I think the first time Hope realized it had a genius in the person of Paul Klipsch was when the great Armstrong, discoverer of frequency modulation (FM), bought a dozen of the Hope's man speakers to demonstrate the great fidelity of the FM radio transmission system. The Klipsch product won out over the best efforts of the largest electronic manufacturers in America.

Klipsch has just come home from a lecture tour of the large universities of the North. His plant and business, out in the SPG industrial area, are growing. Hope doesn't hear much from Paul — but when it does it's the nation's best.

This is a typical American story: A former army major stationed here during the war picks this as his home, gives his genius a practical application and sets up a manufacturing plant. But few commercial products are rated an absolute "best." Hope is fortunate to have one of the few — Klipsch's marvelous electronic speaker, the Klipsch-horn.

Oil Discovery Reported in Middle East

New York, Dec. 27 (AP) — The New York Journal of Commerce says today that "a new major oil discovery — possibly one of the more important in a decade of fabulous strikes — has just been made in the Middle East."

The oil showings were reported made after the start in October of a wildcat well known as Magza No. 1, about seven miles north of the northernmost known part of the 80,000-acre Burgan field in southern Kuwait, they said.

The oil concession for the entire Sheikdom is held jointly by Kuwait Oil Co. Ltd., owned jointly by Gulf Oil Corp. and by Anglo-Iranian Oil Co.

Newly Elected Officers Preside Over Kiwanis Meet

The Hope Kiwanis Club met at noon today at the Hotel Barlow with the recently elected 1952 officers in charge of the program. Today's luncheon replaced the regularly scheduled meeting of last Tuesday which was postponed since it conflicted with Christmas Day activities.

New 1952 officers elected who outlined objectives and plans for the coming year: Jack Lowe, president elect; Henry Haynes, vice president elect; Eddie Whitman, secretary elect, and J. W. Franks re-elected as treasurer.

New board of directors members for 1952 who also participated in the program are Norman Moore, Lawrence Martin, and Mike Kelly. Charles Tarpley another new member of the board elect who was compelled by conflicting circumstances to resign from the 1952 board also participated in the discussion.

Held over board members of the club are Fred Robertson, Milton Dillard, Eddie Whitman, and Hendrix Spraggins.

It was also announced that the installation program for new officers would be held at the Hotel Barlow on the night of January 3. This will be a ladies night program with Dr. C. D. Wardlaw of the Central Presbyterian Church, Little Rock, as the featured speaker.

Markets

Grain prices are a little lower today. Hog prices are 50 cents to a dollar lower while cattle were steady to 50 cents lower.

Cotton futures opened sixty-five cents a bale lower to sixty cents higher. Wholesale meat was unchanged to a bit higher.

Body Identified as Former Hope Resident

The body of a man who plunged into the Arkansas River at Little Rock Christmas Day was identified late yesterday as Harry N. Abram, 46, a former resident of Hope.

He either leaped or fell from the bannister of the bridge about 6 p.m. Tuesday and members of the Little Rock Fire Department recovered the body a half mile downstream less than an hour later.

Little Rock police said Abram had been released from the Pulaski County farm for Christmas.

He is survived by two daughters, two brothers, F. C. Abram of Pollock, La., R. J. Abram of Duncan, Okla., five sisters, Beatrice and Hazel Abram of Hope, Mrs. Mildred Pursino, Mrs. Genevieve Hood and Mrs. P. P. Hubbard of El Dorado.

Funeral services will be held at 3 p.m. Friday at the Hope Gospel Tabernacle.

Active pallbearers: Odus Sims, Guy E. Bayse, S. A. Westbrook, Roy Bratton, J. M. Kessner and Joe Burkley.

More Blasts Rock Area Near Miami

Miami, Fla., Dec. 27 (AP) — Another mysterious explosion occurred in the Miami area early today just four hours after a blast shook a wide area in suburban Hialeah.

The explosions followed warnings by dynamiters yesterday that they planned to strike again.

In both instances police were unable to determine the exact location of the explosion. No damage was reported.

Squad cars checked all houses of worship, such as have been targets in many of the 11 blasts set off here since last June, in the Hialeah-Miami Springs area but found all undamaged.

Safety Director William G. Kimbrough of Coral Gables reported two calls warned him Wednesday the dynamiters are planning further acts.

He said a caller with a heavy foreign accent telephoned him Wednesday morning and warned: "We just want to let you know we've got plenty of dynamite left. We have no preference as to what kind of church it is. We intend to go on bombing churches."

While authorities were investigating the latest Miami incidents, Sheriff J. B. Hendersin of Dade County sent two of his top aides to Miami, Fla., where a blast Tuesday night killed Harry Moore, co-ordinator of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People for Florida, and injured his wife.

About $50,000 in rewards have been offered for the arrest of the dynamiters.

Arkansan Dies in Kansas

Olathe, Kas., Dec. 27 (AP) — Mrs. Anne Katherine Ranney, 37, died today at a hospital in Gardner, Kas. She had been ill two months.

She was a resident of North Little Rock, Ark., until 1943, when she moved to Olathe. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Cuneo of North Little Rock.

She is survived by her husband, Guy Ranney, a brother, Paul Broyles, North Little Rock, and two sisters, Mrs. Ted Cook, North Little Rock, and Mrs. Marion Hertz, Stuttgart, Ark.

Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. Saturday at the Presbyterian Church at Gardner, Kas.

Two Fires Result in Little Damage

Two fires were extinguished by the Hope Fire Department yesterday, neither causing very much damage.

A house at 713 S. Hazel was saved by firemen when a stove started blazing out of control. The stove was ruined but the house was not damaged. A grass fire on No. 4 Highway caused no damage.

Mrs. Roxie Cook Falls, Breaks Hip

Mrs. Roxie Cook fell at her home yesterday and broke her hip. Details could not be immediately learned.

Mrs. Cook underwent an operation this morning and attending physician, Dr. L. M. Lile was very pleased with the response of the 82-year-old Hope resident.

In World War II, Army and Air Force total casualties amounted to 9 per cent of a total mobilization of 10,000,000.

Presbyterian Men to Hear Teddy Jones

Teddy Jones will be guest teacher when the Men's Bible Class of the First Presbyterian Church meets Sunday morning. The Men will meet at 9:30 in the Parish House for doughnuts and coffee and the lesson will begin promptly at 10 o'clock.

All Men of the Church are urged to be present and hear Mr. Jones.

Cease Fire Line Agreement Ends on Ominous Note

Munsan, Korea, Friday, Dec. 27 (AP) — The Reds dropped a veiled hint Thursday that 50,000 unlisted Allied prisoners were all dead of disease or exposure.

At the same time Allied armistice negotiators indicated that the Communists would give a full and honest accounting for all prisoners, the Allies might consider the all-for-all exchange that the Reds demand.

The conferences ended, however, with agreement on only one thing: to meet again today at 11 a. m. (8 p. m., Thursday, EST) even though the 30-day deadline on the provisional cease-fire line expired at midnight Thursday.

There was no indication here of any plans to extend the agreement, responsible for the "twilight war" of the past 30 days. The full five-man armistice committees which signed the provisional buffer zone arrangement Nov. 27 did not even meet. An official U. N. spokesman said neither side asked for an extension.

At the meeting of prisoners the head of the Allied subcommittee, Rear Adm. R. E. Libby, told the Reds:

"If and when you account for all the prisoners of war you should have and all you have had — after you have given us a complete prisoner-of-war list — then your proposal for an all-for-all exchange is an honest and factual proposal worthy of discussion."

"Until we get from you this information, we cannot move one inch towards a solution."

The Allies have not committed themselves in any way on an exchange.

But in the same session Thursday at Panmunjom, Admiral Libby said the Reds hinted they may report that many of the 50,000 prisoners unaccounted for had died of disease or exposure.

Munsan, Korea Friday, Dec. 28 (AP) — The 30-day Korean cease-fire line agreement ran out today on "a rather ominous note" in true talk about Allied prisoner of war deaths.

There was no indication here of plans to extend the agreement responsible for the 30-day twilight war. The full five-man armistice committees which signed the original

Police Fire on Student in Egypt Riots

Cairo, Egypt, Dec. 27 (AP) — Police fired on rioting Egyptian students today as protest demonstrations broke out in Cairo and Alexandria for the second day in a row over the apparent entry of the Palace into power politics.

Bushoff fired from police riot guns injured 15 students at Alexandria.

Several students and police were reported injured in Cairo. The students overturned and set fire to a streetcar near the Parliament building and police waded in with billy clubs.

Ten students were arrested and Cairo traffic was piled up for blocks before several hundred police restored order.

The disturbances spread to secondary school students today. Four secondary schools in Alexandria were ordered closed.

Thousands of secondary school students in both of Egypt's major cities were involved in the demonstrations.

Fouad and Mohammed Ali Pasha Universities in Cairo and Farouk University in Alexandria were ordered closed indefinitely yesterday after college riots against King Farouk's appointment of pro-Western advisors on his palace cabinet.

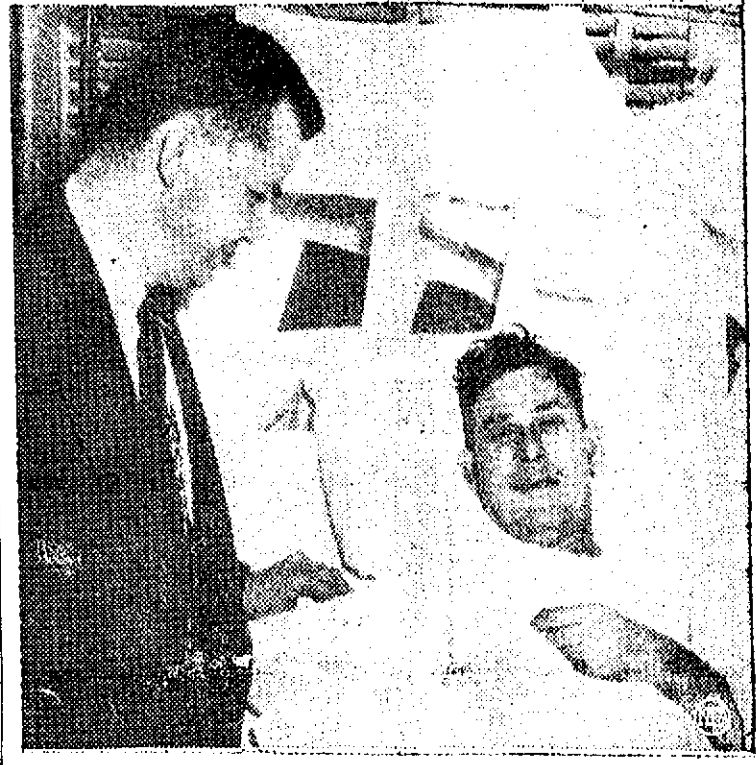

Hafet Afifi Pasha, powerful banker and industrialist, was named by Farouk Monday to head his royal cabinet.

Afifi has declared himself publicly in favor of a defense link with the West — a policy Premier Mustafa Nashas Pasha's government hastily turned down in October.

Afifi is liaison man between Farouk and Nasser and was pictured as working for a compromise settlement of the bloody dispute with the British over the Suez Canal and the Sudan.

Predicts Flatly That 1952 Will See No Wife of Public Official in a Fur Coat

By HAL BOYLE

New York, Dec. 27 (AP) — It is time to look into the old crystal ball for an advance view of 1952.

What lies ahead? Well, button down the storm cellar, boys and girls — it's going to be one of the dullest years of the century.

It is the kind of year that Top Van Winkle would hardly choose to wake up in. You might look for these things:

The hottest national political campaign since the Bull Moose campaign of 1912. More mud will be deposited around the landscape than was left by the Midwest floods of 1951.

A man will patent a new gigantic brain able to out-think Congress. It will be given the task of figuring a way to collect more taxes, however, and it will explode — and Congress will meet as usual.

Television will come up with a bright new star — a lady able to wrestle an alligator and a lion together at one and the same time, while she sings a cigarette commercial.

The biggest food sensation of the year: a non-currency or a delectable cereal. The children can see and taste it, but the parents don't have to listen to it.

A scandal will break out in world chess circles. Bull fighting will then be revived in Texas to give the nation an honest amateur sport.

A spiritualist will at least succeed in making contact with the ghost of Houndini. His message: "Let me alone, I know when I'm well off."

The traffic problem will be solved by the creation of a national network of four-lane, no-way streets. Nobody will get anywhere, but they'll do it more safely.

Dr. Kinsey will finally publish his gigantic survey on the sex life of American women. It will turn out to be a four-page pamphlet. He then will undertake his masterpiece — a study of Freudian variations in the rabbit.

Taxes will go sideways, as they no longer can go up.

A revolutionary new discovery will be brought to the market as a substitute for nylon. It will be called silk.

A Soviet historical will announce in Pravda that a Russian scientist first invented the common cold. He will explain that is why most Russian names end with a sneeze.

Inflation will force the five percenters to become ten percenters. A monument will be erected to a

U.S. to Buy Fliers Out of Hungary But Time of Release Is Doubtful

Officials Fear 'Pay Off' May Be Dangerous

By United Press

Washington, Dec. 27 (AP) — Responsible officials conceded today there are dangers for the future in the U.S. decision to pay the $120,000 in fines levied by Communist Hungary against four American airmen.

At the same time these authorities asserted there were compelling reasons for the decision and that in terms of propaganda the result will not necessarily be entirely adverse to the United States.

The way appeared clear for release of the four fliers sometime today. This government, after pondering the issue for several days, agreed to pay the fines.

And undoubtedly will exploit the decision to pay the fines these dangers or disadvantages were noted:

The Communist leadership can and undoubtedly will exploit the U.S. decision in Europe and elsewhere as an evidence of American weakness, and also as evidence that the airmen were guilty. The four were charged with having deliberately violated the borders of Hungary to discharge spies. The U.S. insisted they lost their way on a flight to Belgrade, Yugoslavia, and that the spy charge was baseless.

Aside from propagandizing, the Kremlin may be led to think there is a lack of determination in Washington in handling such matters and may be encouraged to run the greater risks in the future in dealing with the U.S. and its citizens.

The Hungarian incident may lead to a series of similar irritating actions involving greater sums of money and more people — members of the armed forces, diplomats or private citizens. This danger is seen as most likely to materialize if the Communist decide they have hit upon a way of getting money out of the U.S.

On the positive side of the decision to pay the $120,000 fine assessed against each of the four, officials said there were these considerations:

Payment appeared to be the only way open to assure the prompt release and therefore the safety of the airmen. Courts behind the iron curtain can raise as well as lower sentences already imposed.

The decision can be used by the U.S. and its friends in Europe as proof of American patience and restraint in dealing with Communist provocation. This is considered important because a large segment of population in western Europe is reportedly fearful of rash Washington action which might cause war.

The decision shows that the U.S. stands behind members of the armed forces in such a situation as that created by Hungary. Authorities believe this is important for the morale of forces serving in positions where they might fall into Communist hands.

Daughter Says Mrs. Cronin Was Beaten

New York, Dec. 27 (UP) — Mrs. Evelyn Cronin's adopted daughter testified today that she had seen Actress Tallulah Bankhead hit her mother "many times" while Mrs. Cronin was the actress' secretary and maid.

The daughter, Josie, 22, testified as a defense witness. Mrs. Cronin, 59, is charged with stealing $4,284.80 from her employer during an 18-month period by raising the amounts of 26 weekly expense checks Miss Bankhead made out to her.

The defense rested at mid-morning shortly after Josie's testimony. It had called six witnesses.

Josie said she protested when Miss Bankhead hit Mrs. Cronin but that the actress "told me never to interfere."

"I told her 'Don't hit my mother,' the witness said. She added that Mrs. Cronin instructed her not to protest.

Another defense witness, Mrs. Rene Pearson, Josie's mother and a friend of Mrs. Cronin, testified that she had gone with Miss Bankhead.

Mrs. Cronin, who wound up three days of testimony in her own defense yesterday, was recalled today to testify that she never owned a mink coat. Her testimony was a defense answer to an assertion in a newspaper that she had.

Tax Liens Slapped on Scandal Names

By United Press

Tax liens for more than $2,000,000 in alleged overdue income taxes have been filed against several of the big names who figured in the congressional internal revenue scandal investigations.

The government pounced on "mystery man" Henry W. Grunwald with a lien for $31,157 in Miami, Fla., to guarantee payment of what Uncle Sam figures he owes for 1950.

In Houston, Texas, the government revealed it had filed a $1,528,484 lien against Troy Whitehead, who played host on the now-famous airplane flight for ousted tax investigator T. Lamar Caudle.

Whitehead complained that the government was suing him for 20 times the amount he owes.

In Chicago, Abraham Teitelbaum, a former Capone attorney who testified before the committee that he was the victim of a $500,000 tax shakedown, was slapped with a $325,000 tax lien.

Pall Simon, another attorney and an associate of Teitelbaum in several real estate holdings, was the object of a lien for $103,000 in alleged back income taxes.

Altogether in Miami, the government filed 98 liens against property in Dade county.

Nightclub entertainer Martha Raye was one of those who was named, although she had no part in the scandal investigation hearings.

Whitehead, a Charlotte, N.C., machinery dealer, was bitter about the government's eagerness to get what it figures he owes.

"That collector in Charlotte has filed tax liens against me in Florida, Georgia and everywhere I set my foot," he said. "Some of them are for more than a million dollars."

All of the liens were to secure payment of income tax due, plus penalties, interest and costs.

In New York meanwhile, the Brooklyn internal revenue collector announced that Larry Knohl, who purchased a $100,000 country estate while owing the government an alleged $137,000 in back taxes, has been paying off the six-figure debt in installments.

The government hit Knohl with a tax lien a short time after his appearance before the committee in Washington. The Brooklyn collector said the payments had been made over a two-week period.

Father Kills 3 Members of Family, Self

Manchester, Conn., Dec. 27 (UP) — A wealthy lumber dealer who recently lost a legal fight over a divorce settlement killed his former wife, two of his eight children and himself today, police reported.

The bodies of Harry England, 52, his ex-wife Louise, 50, his daughter Jane, 24, and son John, 22, were found in one room of the mother's gay, decorated home which was packed with Christmas presents.

Assistant Medical Examiner John Pringano said all the bodies were in Jane's room. The boy was wearing pajamas. The others were fully clothed.

A shotgun was found four or five feet from England and a revolver was beneath his body. Both were used in the mass slaying. Pringano said, adding that "it's hard to determine how many shots were fired."

The children killed were the couple's oldest and youngest and other son, Harry, 20, a soldier, was home on furlough from Korea.

The couple had been living apart for two years.

The surviving children were whisked out of the house after the shooting and sent to homes of a relative and friend.

County Detective John Reardon said, "no one is in the clear yet. I have a lot of investigating to do, but it's an apparent case of triple murder and suicide."

England's brother Cecil was a former mayor of this town.

England lost his divorce settlement battle in the state supreme court Dec. 17. The court ruled his ex-wife was entitled to $50 a month support because England owned more than $200,000 worth of real estate. Because England had given no support to her or to their children, Mrs. England was being forced to work 18 hours a day to support the family. The court found.

U. S. Envoys Can't Get Any Definite Answer

Vienna, Dec. 27 (AP) — A Hungarian government official told the U. S. Legation in Budapest he could not disclose when four Americans held by the Communists would be released.

Walter J. Donnelly, U. S. ambassador to Vienna, told newsmen he had talked to the Budapest Legation this afternoon.

He spoke to American officials there after George Abbott, U. S. charge d'affaires in Budapest, returned from a conference with Hungarian foreign office officials.

"Mr. Abbott was told by the Hungarians that they cannot give the Americans any information on the plans to release the four airmen," Donnelly said.

Despite the announcement, the Hungarians remained tightly secretive about how the Iron Curtain would be lifted to permit the Americans to return to freedom.

Donnelly expected to confer again later today with the American Legation in Budapest.

He was prepared to send a party of legation officials to the Austro-Hungarian border, as such a party learned the airmen were on their way to Vienna.

However, the tone of the Hungarian reply left the impression that the Communists may be planning to escort the four airmen to the border and there drop them, making the Americans responsible.

On the Austrian side of the frontier the little village of Nikolsdorf was crowded with newsmen and photographers.

Officials in Vienna did not discount the possibility that the Hungarians might take the four airmen to the Yugoslav border. The C-47 transport plane which they were flying was heading for Belgrade Nov. 10 when it was forced down by Soviet jet planes over Hungary.

A Hungarian military court secretly convicted the four airmen four days ago on an accusation that they deliberately violated Hungary's border to slip up the ground for later spy dropping.

The American indignation that the Hungarians in fact which the Red regime curtly refused — is that the plane got lost on a routine flight and its crew had nothing to do with spying.

U. S. Air Force authorities in Germany assumed the airmen would be sent back through Vienna, where American officials and troops are stationed nearest the Hungarian border.

Cryptic dispatches from Budapest, the Hungarian capital, said yesterday there were "certain signs" that the men had been freed or would be freed last night. But reporters there could not amplify that reference or say when counts immediately. They also refused to operate under any responsibility concerning anything that must not displease the government of Hungary.

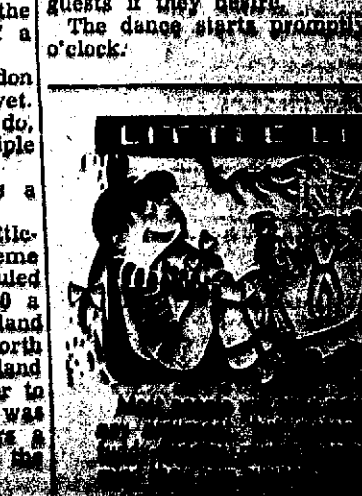

Despite American agreement to pay the fines, mystery then shrouded when and where the four men would be set free. There was no direct evidence early today from anywhere that the airmen had actually been paid.

Heavy Snow Covers All of Chicago

Chicago, Dec. 26 (AP) — Snow-toned it slowed Chicago's big city pace to a turtle-land walk today.

Heavy crews of workers and other thousands battled to remove piles of snow which nearly paralyzed transportation in the nation's second-largest city.

Snow shoveling was the major outdoor activity in the metropolitan area on Christmas Day. A Christmas Eve storm left a fresh blanket of more than eight inches of snow on the already snow-covered city.

The latest covering of white brought the city's December snowfall to a record-breaking 33.1 inches and the total for the season to 27.5 inches. This compares with the average of 11.2 inches for an entire winter season. The heaviest fall on record was 62.1 inches in 1916.

Transportation officials urged motorists not to drive. They sound a similar warning yesterday. But buses and street cars and elevated lines operated far behind schedule and thousands of motorists risked the chance of getting stalled.

There were hundreds who became stranded as they attempted to make holiday trips into suburban areas. Many didn't get far from their homes before they bogged down in drifts.

Thousands of cars are stalled in the snow-heaped Chicago streets, greatly increasing the difficulty of getting the snow cleared and restoring the normal movement of traffic.

Some tow-trucking operators reported they were unable to respond to trouble calls because equipment has been damaged by snowdrifts in the several storms in the last two weeks.

The Chicago Transit Authority, which operates the street car, elevated and bus lines, said its total fleet of 200 planes and sweepers was being utilized around the clock to remove the snow. The CTA said it had spent more than $500,000 since Dec. 14 in the fight to keep the 1,000 miles of bus routes and 400 miles of street car lines open.

The city sent out 200 snow plows and crews.

Fire Marshall Michael J. Corbett ordered all shops off for firemen yesterday beginning today because of the increased danger of fire. Cold weather as low as five below was forecast for the Chicago area tonight.

Alley police cars were ordered into service in their stations yesterday because of street conditions. The snow was not deep at the Woodfield zoo yesterday that even the polar bears stayed inside. Five of the zoo's polar bears didn't move out of their dens. The sixth headed for shelter in a hurry after a brief look around its outdoor cage.

Rail Worker Admits Slaying His Parents

Yonkers, N.Y., Dec. 26 (UP) —

A 26-year-old railroad worker was held without bond today after he pleaded guilty to the Christmas Eve slaying of his parents.

Because his father had trouble remembering and his mother was going blind.

Deon Henderson told officers he shot and killed his mother, Mrs. Ethel Henderson, 54, as she sat among gaily wrapped Christmas gifts on a couch.

Then he shot and killed his 62-year-old father, John, and dragged his body into the bedroom.

The double-slaying was discovered by the stocky machinist, 30, Lucille, and his seven-year-old daughter as they returned home after a Christmas Eve church service.

Officers fixed the time of the slayings at about 7 or 8 p. m. and were ill and had trouble remembering the slayings, Henderson told Sheriff James J. Connelley.

"I didn't know what I was doing, but I thought of my mother without dad," he said.

Officers told Henderson showed little emotion as he described how he shot his parents through the head with a heavy caliber rifle.

Washington, Dec. 26 (AP) — A Communications Commission examiner today recommended that radio station KTHS, Hot Springs, Ark., be permitted to move to Little Rock for continuous operation with greatly increased power.

The station on 1590 kilocycles, now operates on 10 kilowatts power daytime and one kilowatt power at night. The examiner, Basil P. Cooper, said that power should be raised until the move to the state capital, when the power should be increased to 50 kilowatts around the clock.

The examiner's report was issued in the form of an initial commission decision. It will become final in 10 days unless objection is filed.

Washington, Dec. 26 (AP) — A Communications Commission examiner today recommended that radio station KTHS, Hot Springs, Ark., be permitted to move to Little Rock for continuous operation with greatly increased power.

The station on 1590 kilocycles, now operates on 10 kilowatts power daytime and one kilowatt power at night. The examiner, Basil P. Cooper, said that power should be raised until the move to the state capital, when the power should be increased to 50 kilowatts around the clock.

The examiner's report was issued in the form of an initial commission decision. It will become final in 10 days unless objection is filed.

Father Killed by Son Over Yule Dinner

Wallingford, Conn., Dec. 26 (UP) — An 18-year-old Wallingford youth was held today after he allegedly shot and killed his father when the parent picked on his family for eating without him when he was late for Christmas dinner.

State police said Terence J. Saunders, Jr., fired a blast from a 12-gauge shotgun that tore off the top of his father's head. The father, Terence J. Saunders, Sr., tumbled down a stairway into a pile of unopened Christmas presents.

Greenwich police 70 miles away apprehended the youth about an hour and a half after state police broadcast an alarm. There patrol cars stopped young Saunders in the family automobile. He offered no resistance, although a shotgun was in the rear of the machine.

State Police Capt. Paul Layin said Saunders, his wife and three children attended Christmas Day mass in the morning. After church services, the elder Saunders left the group to go to the Elks club where he was an officer.

When the father failed to return home at the specified dinner hour, his family ate without him. After gulping a hasty dinner alone, Saunders described as "always a good father" by his children, became enraged.

Police said he beat his wife and another son, William, 17, while the family, including a daughter, Rose Marie, 20, watched Saunders throw the Christmas tree in the yard and shot up the ornaments with a .22 calibre rifle.

Police said Saunders also slapped his wife and went upstairs and ordered his son to come down.

Police said Terence told them he thought his father was going to shoot him so he grabbed the double-barreled shotgun and fired at him at close range as he was on the stairs. Saunders was killed outright.

Czechs Dicker With Iran for Oil Purchases

By PHIL CLARKE

Teheran, Iran, Dec. 26 (AP) — Communist Czechoslovakia stepped up today as the first from certain customer to dicker for Iran's state-owned oil.

Iran needs the money badly. The government disclosed last night it is so broke it has called home 26 diplomats to save expenses abroad. They include ambassadors to Britain, Italy and India, the minister in Belgium, and 22 lesser officials.

Britain, ousted owner and operator of the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company already has served firm notice in a diplomatic note she will look on Iranian oil sales to outsiders as illegal.

And the company, mainly owned by the British government, has publicly stated it will take all possible measures to halt sales until Iran settles satisfactorily with the company. These measures have not been specifically defined.

The British notices followed an ultimatum from Premier Mohammad Mossaddegh that former Western buyers of Iranian oil must bid for petroleum products within 10 days or he would look for customers wherever he could find them.

The ultimatum expired Saturday without a single Western bid reported.

Czech Charge Affairs Jan Sabacky discussed an oil purchase agreement with Deputy Finance Minister Jirooson Farnis, Roads Minister Javad Busheri told a news conference last night.

The Czechs will send an official delegation to Tehran soon to sign an agreement, in reply questions, Farnis said prices and methods of transporting the oil to Czechoslovakia will be discussed after the delegation arrives.

Transport is Iran's big headache in seeking new customers. Iranian oil must move by tanker and most of the world's tankers are owned by Western firms who are following Britain's lead of aloofness from any deal with Mossaddegh.

Despite transport difficulties, other nations, too, were reported dicker with Iran. Poland, Yugoslavia, Afghanistan and Egypt were among the prospective customers.

Harris Raps ICC Over River Hearing

By GORDON BROWN

Washington, Dec. 26 (AP) — Rep. Owen Harris (D-Ark.) who believes the government should be operated for convenience of the public and not government officials, expounded his view bluntly to Interstate Commerce commission officials the other day.

A barge line has applied for a permit to operate on the Ouachita River in Louisiana and Southern Arkansas. The ICC assigned an examiner to hold a hearing on the case in Little Rock.

Harris said he considered this site an inconvenience since it was 120 miles north of El Dorado and most of the persons interested in the case lived in El Dorado and other parts of South Arkansas.

Harris said he told the ICC that there was talk in Arkansas that the hearing had been set in Little Rock purely for the convenience of the trial examiner and "a couple of railroad attorneys."

ICC members, Harris said, denied this.

"Then I said," Harris related, "that between 200 and 300 people in Southern Arkansas and as far south as Monroe, La., were interested in this case and could have to drive 200 to 300 miles for the hearing, burn a lot of valuable gasoline, buy their meals and pay hotel bills because the hearing was

Wrecks Take 8 Lives in Arkansas

By The Associated Press
Traffic mishaps in Arkansas since Monday have claimed eight lives.

The latest victim was 60-year-old Mary Morris of West Memphis, who was injured fatally in the crash of two automobiles near that city Wednesday night. Fifteen year old James Powers, Little Rock High School student, was killed Wednesday when a car crashed into a bridge abutment west of Little Rock.

Another passenger in the car, Gerry Dillaha, 29, was injured critically.

inal agreement Nov. 27 did not even meet. An official U. N. spokesman said neither side asked for an extension.

But in a subcommittee session at Pannunjom Thursday, Rear Adm. R. E. Libby said the Communists hinted they may report many of the 50,000 unaccounted-for Allied prisoners of war died of exposure and disease.

Libby said it was "a rather ominous note. It might have been a forewarning that all these people died of illness."

Subcommittees working on the problems of exchanging war prisoners and supervising a truce still journeyed their last session before the schedule expiration hour. The agreement was timed to run out at midnight 1 a. m. (EST) Thursday.

Each committee scheduled an other meeting for 11 a. m. Friday 9 p. m. (EST) Thursday in Pannunjom.

Washington sources expressed belief Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway would approve a 15-day extension of the period in which the 145-mile line drawn across Korea Nov. 27 could become a permanent cease-fire line.

High diplomatic officials in Washington said the supreme U. N. commander had been authorized to approve an extension of up to 15 days if he felt there was hope of reaching an agreement.

On Nov. 27 negotiators drew a tentative cease-fire line and agreed it would become the center of a 2 1/2 mile wide buffer zone if an armistice were signed within 30 days.

Otherwise the line would be redrawn just before a truce is signed to follow changes resulting from battle action.

Expiration of the cease-fire line agreement could bring an explosive end to the month-long lull on the battlefield, or the twilight war could continue while negotiations go on.

The front was cold and relatively quiet Thursday, as temperatures dipped below zero in some sectors. A company-size Red attack on the Eastern Front near Heartbreak Ridge cut off one Allied unit. U. N. forces counterattacked in knee-deep snow and biting cold.

In Thursday's fruitless talks in snow-swept Pannunjom each side accused the other of needlessly delaying the truce.

North Korean Maj. Gen. Lee Sang Choo charged that the U. N. wasted time by refusing to agree to a Communist proposal for an all-for-all exchange of prisoners.

Rear Adm. R. E. Libby told the Reds they wasted 12 days by refusing to set up a prisoner exchange subcommittee, then delayed for another eight days before agreeing to exchange prisoner lists.

The list finally submitted by the Reds was "fatally deceptive," Libby asserted.

In a nearby tent, the Communists verbally promised not to build up their armed strength during an armistice. But they refused to put it in writing.

Ward and Mrs. Doris Carmen served fruit cake and coffee, all adjourned to meet in the home of Mrs. B. J. Warnken on January 19th.

DOROTHY DIX

Altar-Shy Beau

Dear Miss Dix: I'm 24 years old and have been in love with a man for five years, though we have only been going together for a few months. However, we have been good friends for a long time. Since going with him, I know there can never be anyone else. I know he cares for me but he has his life planned and marriage is not included. He comes from an unhappy home so I think he is afraid to really get serious.

I have had a wonderful position offered to me that promises a fine career. It will require long hours of hard work. Should I concentrate solely on my job and try to forget this man, or will I gain anything by being patient?

CAROLA
Answer: Many young men who simply cannot face the responsibilities of marriage evade the question with this "unhappy home background" story. The fallaciousness of the argument has been shown so many times by young people who having come from an unhappy background, are determined to establish their own home on a sound basis. Such is usually the outcome of these marriages. Learning from their own youthful misery, youngsters of broken or unhappy homes usually grow up to raise the finest families.

His Argument Weak
So your beau's argument against settling down is very weak. Actually he either is not in love with you enough to give up the freedom he enjoys, or is basically so immature that he expects to cling to bachelor habits forever.

In view of your uncertain matrimonial prospects with this man, your wisest course is to continue the career that looks so promising. By concentrating your thoughts on a hard job, you'll spend less time and energy fruitfully following a mirage of your own creation, at the same time establishing a secure future for yourself. A wider business horizon will also increase your chances of meeting other men who will, perhaps, be less adverse to the bonds of matrimony than your present sweetheart.

Dear Miss Dix: Recently I have been in a hospital and had to be given several blood transfusions. What I would like to know is, how can a person show her appreciation to the people who were so kind as to donate blood for her?

N. M.
Answer: Obviously, a blood donation is not something that can be returned with a token gift of that sort. Your first acknowledgment should be a very cordial and gracious letter, accompanied by an offering of prayer. Nothing is so needed in the world today as prayer, and it is the only adequate compensation I can think of for your friend's kindness. Rather than trying to make an immediate, material return, bear their generosity in mind and at any time when one of these people needs help, be Johnny-on-the-spot to render it. If you can help with it. In sorrow they will need consolation. Even in their joys, a friend to share the happiness is welcome. There are many ways in which you can show your appreciation; just watch and wait for the opportunity.

Dear Miss Dix: I am 16 and like a boy very much. I had no idea he liked me until last week when he brought me home from church four times. I thought that was a sign he liked me, but last night he called another girl and we went on a double date. Do you think he has lost interest in me?

TESSA
Answer: Your young man probably had no other thought in mind on either occasion, than friendly intention. Don't try to read so much into a simple action. Since you continue seeing him in your daily activities, continue to be friendly, but not demanding, and if he likes you best, you'll soon find out.

Families of Fliers Hold Up Yule Presents
Erlding, Germany, Dec. 27 (AP) — Families of the American fliers jailed in Hungary waited with a mixture of joy and anxiety today for the delivery of their belated Christmas presents — their menfolk.

They learned with joy last night the U. S. government would pay the $120,000 demanded for the fliers' release.

The wife and three children of Capt. Dave H. Henderson of Shawnee, Okla., at the U. S. Air Force Base here, are saving all their Christmas gifts unopened until the captain gets home.

The fliers will not come directly to their homes here. First they will be flown to the U. S. Air Force Headquarters at Wiesbaden, Ger-

Steel Policy Men Meet to Decide Course

Pittsburgh, Dec. 27 (AP) — The steel crisis came to a head today with union policy makers meeting to decide whether to strike or work.

While leaders of the CIO-United Steelworkers gave no hint what kind of action they may take, it was believed generally they will vote to delay the nationwide strike set for New Year's Day.

The union's 36-man executive committee meets first and then the 170 member wage-policy board. The executive committee makes decisions; the wage-policy board accepts or rejects them.

As the sessions are secret, no announcement is expected before the large group completes its session, probably late today.

Possibilities before the union seemed to be:

(1) Acceptance or rejection complete or conditional of President Truman's demand that the wage fight between the 700,000 union and the steel industry be turned over to the Wage Stabilization Board for study or settlement.

(2) Postponement of the strike at least until Jan. 3 when a special international convention will be held at Atlantic City to plot the union's future course.

Since Monday when Philip Murray, president of both the CIO and the USW, called for the meetings there has been a virtual cessation of strike preparations in the local unions. Talk of a walkout has been at a minimum.

Although most industry officials are hopeful the scheduled shutdown will be postponed, they are prepared to start banking furnaces.

The union has asked an 18 1/2 cent hourly pay boost for workers averaging $1.93. The USW also wants a guaranteed annual wage, a union shop, elimination of geographical pay inequities, improved premium and incentive pay, and other benefits. Some authorities have estimated the entire package would run to 30 or 50 cents an hour.

The union says the pay raise is necessary because of increased living costs.

The industry has made no wage offer. Its spokesmen have argued that any pay raise would add to the inflationary pressure. Also, they declare, they cannot raise pay unless they get an increase in steel prices.

There is some indication the government is considering allowing a raise in steel prices—perhaps not tied to the USW pay raise.

Economic Stabilizer Roger L. Putnam said the government is talking with steel producers in Washington about a price increase based on the Capehart Amendment. This permits ceilings to be raised to cover increases in wages, raw materials and other business costs up to July 26. It would not cover any increases resulting from current wage talks.

Putnam quoted Benjamin Fairless, president of U. S. Steel, as saying he felt the industry is entitled to an immediate price rise under the Capehart formula.

"I told Mr. Fairless that if steel is entitled to an increase under Capehart, it would get the increase whether or not it grants a wage increase," Putnam added.

Putnam said the first batch of figures submitted by steel companies in support of a Capehart increase did not seem to justify it but that new information is being prepared.

If the union agrees to let the WSB settle the dispute, a panel will be named next week. It likely will be made up of two members representing the public, two labor and two industry.

Stassen to Tell Plans in Campaign

Washington, Dec. 27 (AP)—Republican Eisenhower For President backers reportedly are doing some finger-pointing in advance of Harold L. Stassen's scheduled disclosure tonight of the role he plays in the 1952 presidential campaign.

Planes Evacuate 200,000 Casualty

Tokyo, Dec. 27 (AP)—The planes which evacuated wounded Allied soldiers from Korea carried their 200,000th casualty today.

He was a Belgian private — Albert Keide of Ploegstert.

Air evacuation officers explained that the 200,000 figure did not represent that many casualties since some men have been flown from one area to another several times.

Each trip made by a wounded man is counted as one lift.

Two Arkansas Mines Close in Sympathy

West Frankfort, Ill., Dec. 27 (AP)—A few of the nation's coal mines remained idle today in memory of West Frankfort mine blast victims but there was no indication of a mass work stoppage.

Investigators still are seeking the cause of the explosion that brought death to 119 men.

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers Union, said he made some "definite conclusions" about the cause, but he wouldn't elaborate.

Federal, state and company investigators, who spent eight hours in the mine yesterday, won't comment until the inquiry ends. They planned another eight-hour study today.

Lewis had nothing to say about the walkouts or a report he might call a 10-day "memorial work stoppage." He described the latter as a rumor.

Other union officials said the walkouts were not ordered by the union, but added the men were leaving their jobs in sympathy with the West Frankfort victims.

Two mines in Arkansas were idled yesterday after workers told, too.

management of a "five-day memorial."

Also shut down were mines at New Kensington, Pa., and Terre Haute, Ind., but union officials at both places said the men were going back to their jobs today.

Simon A. Bramlett, commissioner for the Arkansas-Oklahoma Coal Operators Association, said he understood other mines in the area would be affected.

Mines in Franklin and Williamson counties in Illinois closed, but both company and union officials said this was to accommodate friends and relatives of the victims of Friday night's disaster.

A congressional inquiry also was touched off.

Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) said a senate labor-management subcommittee sent an investigator, Curtis Johnson, to lay the groundwork for public hearings early next year.

Humphrey heads the subcommittee.
